

The California 2023 VOC International Rally planning team is looking forward to meeting, riding, and socializing with those visiting from outside North America. Especially those who bring their trusted Vincent. California has some great riding roads, and September along the Pacific Coast is nice and warm. There is a lot to see and a lot to do.

Shipping a motorcycle during the last few years was often tricky because of the COVID epidemic and other world events. Shipping ports, particularly on the west coast, were very congested. Fortunately, things have improved.

Shipping a collectible motorcycle that you own requires a specialist organization. Those who have previously sent their Vincent across the Atlantic or the Pacific Ocean might have a positive relationship with a logistics company. But we thought identifying a candidate would be a valued service for those who don't or are inexperienced in working through the details to decide whom to retain. Several California rally planning team members have experience shipping their Vincent's. One has extensive and ongoing experience shipping iconic motorcycles.

With this in mind, we suggest that those considering transatlantic or transpacific shipping of their Vincent to the rally contact:
